I CATCH

the spirit of English
Language Teaching

Profesorado de Enseñanza Media
Especializado en English
Language Teaching

When I first came to UVG I felt right at home. I had the support from fellow teachers and faculty professors, I was nourished with learning theories, techniques, and principles, I was encouraged to grow by overcoming the classroom challenges, and I was taught to reflect and change. UVG was a home that saw me become the teacher I am today!

Professor Mark Warschauer at the University of California, said, "English has become the second language of everybody. It's gotten to the point where almost in any part of the world, to be educated means to know English". Scholars claim that about one-fourth of the world's population can communicate to some degree in English. It's the language most used, from science to air traffic control to the Internet and Call Centers. It's hard to imagine a modern-day businessman or entrepreneur not using English to close a deal with a colleague from China, Sweden, or Guatemala! To operate in the world stage today, everyone needs to obtain a competitive edge by joining the millions who communicate in English.

Recognizing that all Guatemalans must become part of a globalized world and communicate across cultures in English, in 1980 the Universidad del Valle de Guatemala opened the Profesorado de Enseñanza Media Especializado in English Language Teaching (ELT) to qualify English teachers who would bring the language to the present and future citizens of a globalized world.

An ELT graduate of the Universidad del Valle de Guatemala:

- applies language concepts, structures, and conventions of the English language in the teaching / learning context
- promotes and enhances students' English language development
- plans and implements effective classroom instruction
- facilitates students' learning of academic content, language, and culture
- reflects upon and improves instructional practice by keeping abreast of current instructional techniques, research results, and advances in the field

The ELT teacher is able to acquire a teaching position at the vast majority of the prestigious schools in Guatemala and is able to contribute innovative and creative ideas to the secondary level in private and public educational institution's improvement of English Language Teaching.
